

Automated invoice verification for veterinary invoices – providing noticeable relief for you as an insurer

Every day, many insurers lose time, money, and customer trust due to slow, error-prone manual invoice verification.

We automate this process to ensure faster reimbursements with less effort for everyone involved.

Mistakes happen in manual processes. Even AI isn't always right. VetControl delivers the best results for you.

VetControl is the only provider offering a combination of consulting, software, AI, and a team of experts to achieve the highest quality standards.

This allows us to combine unmatched speed with accuracy.

This is already helping many insurance companies automate their veterinary invoice processing.

We can digitally capture all invoice line items, assign them to the relevant catalogs, and even detect fraud attempts — all within just under 2 hours.
